

Are you paying too much for your mobile data?

Being online has never been more important. With the demands of global business and our always-on lifestyles, we simply cannot afford to go offline. With smartphones, we never have to. Be it email, web or apps, our smartphones keep us informed and in touch.

This productivity comes with a price. Smartphones consume 3G data whether we actively use them or not. On the road, absurdly expensive roaming charges turn even the shortest business trip into thousands in data expenses.

The Vircado Solution

Vircado cuts mobile expenses by reducing smartphone data usage. Our powerful yet easy-to-use solution starts saving you money from day one.

How It Works

Vircado takes a client-less, cloud-based approach to reducing data usage. Within seconds of activation, your smartphone's data is directed through Vircado's data centers. There, our compression technology kicks into action, ensuring your phone uses as little data as possible.
